MUCH FRICTION.

Porto Rican Spaniards Balked In Attempt to Sell Old Mortars.

San Juan, Porto Rico, Oct. 6.—The Alicante will sail for Spain today with 250 sick Spanish soldiers.

Capt. Arlegui of the civil guard at Bayamo has been severely stabbed by some persons unknown. It is thought he will die. He is much disliked by the islanders. The officials at Bayamo promptly made several arrests, including prominent physicians, Dr. Dr. Capt. Arlegui and St. Hall, as long bitter personal enemies.

It is known as an American sympathizer, and had to leave the island during the war and recently returned. When arrested he was removed to jail. Popular opinion accuses him of any connection with the stabbing.

Trouble of this character has been frequent for some time at Bayamo, a Spanish town, and the Spanish authorities have received several petitions for American protection. Gen. Brooke replied that it was impossible to furnish this until the Spanish had evacuated the island. The Spanish government is fully appreciated by Americans here.

TO BE ARBITRATED.

The Rate Dispute Between the C. P. and the American Roads.

Washington, Oct. 6.—One of the most irritating questions in the railroad history of the United States, and one that has been the cause of much destructive rate wars than any other, is in a fair way to be adjusted. The American transcontinental lines and the Canadian Pacific Railway company have agreed to submit to E. W. Washburn, president of the Kansas City, Fort Scott & Memphis Railway company, and J. W. Midgley of Chicago, as arbitrators, and their decision to be binding on all companies whether the Canadian Pacific Railway company shall be allowed a differential on freight traffic between the Atlantic coast and certain Pacific coast ports, and in the right arm. He says that the Pilgrims do not number more than 100, but they fight as only demoniacs.

DESPERATE FIGHTING

Maj. Wilkinson, Six Privates and One Indian Policeman are Dead.

Col. Sheehan Wounded and Gus Beaulieu Shot in the Shoulder.

Fighting Not Half Over and Biggest Battle Yet to Occur.

Minneapolis, Oct. 6.—A special to the Journal from Walker, Minn., says:

Maj. Wilkinson, six privates and one Indian policeman are dead. Col. Sheehan is slightly wounded. Thirty Indians are dead. The Journal dispatch boat has just returned from the battle ground. There has been desperate fighting all the morning.

The Journal boat brought out H. S. Talmor, deputy marshal, and Col. Sheehan. Sheehan is not badly wounded. He is shot in the abdomen. While the boat was transferring wounded men, Sheehan was fired on from the brush. This was the signal for an immediate opening of hostilities. The troops opened on the Indians, and in a second there was as fierce a fight in progress as that of yesterday. Beaulieu narrowly escaped with his life. He had his shoulder bored clear through. The newspaper correspondents are all right.

CASH IS NEEDED

Blanco Beset By Many Problems That Money Alone Will Solve.

WANTED TO BORROW

The Manager of Espanol Bank
Condemned For Lending Him Money.

Havana, Oct. 6.—Six hundred men, machinists, blacksmiths, skilled workmen and laborers have gone on strike at the Havana arsenal, refusing to work until they are paid five months' arrears of wages. The strike began on Monday and no settlement has yet been made.

The Spanish cruiser Conde de Venadito, the gunboat Galice and the torpedo boats Nueva and Pana are on the stocks at the navy yard undergoing elaborate repairs, preparatory to their trip to Spain. The arsenal strike is likely to delay the evacuation, for as the time is concerned, unless the references in their present condition are quite inaccurate, the vessels are not ready for voyage and especially at this time of the year.

The Spanish authorities continue to declare their inability to account for the small entirely before the end of February. The Washington government, through the American commissioners, continues to insist upon prompt evacuation. The Spanish government has a reason for delay, in addition to the lack of vessels a large proportion of their soldiers are too weak and ill to make the voyage at the winter season.

Gen. Blanco is beset on all sides with grave problems. The only possible solution is to submit to Madrid government is unprepared to meet them and the captain general is thus placed in a very delicate position. On the one hand is the Spanish army, on the other are the troops clamoring for back pay. Last week Blanco issued orders disbanding all the provisional regiments in certain places, to finance the Santa Spiritus. The troops refused to disband unless first they received their arrears of pay. Many of them were in the Cuban army.

The trip to Cienfuegos of Gen. Blanco, the chief of staff, is intended to be due to the serious reasons of the situation. Existing reasons rendered the measure necessary have not been developed, but Gen. Blanco yesterday revoked the order disbanding the irregulars.

It has leaked out that in his extremity Gen. Blanco summoned the governor of the Spanish bank and called him for an advance of money. The banker at first refused, but finally yielded to Blanco's appeal and advanced $200,000. His weakness is certain to command more of the depositors threatening to withdraw their deposits.

The political condition of the island, instead of improving, seems to be at a complete standstill. The undisguised corruption in every branch of the administration fills all minds with distrust.

There are ominous clouds on the horizon that indicate early trouble with the United States may open proclaiming their readiness to fight to the last drop of blood for absolute independence. Prominent chiefs in the insurrectionary army, in their intention, as soon as the forthcoming elections are over, to come to Havana and work strenuously to behalf of independence. In the event of their success, by the laboring classes, they will not be identified with the last uprising, now to be fully estimated, profess their intention of joining the insurgent ranks in the struggle for independence and to fight the Americans if the latter in any way oppose their efforts to keep the island.

Distrust and uncertainty as to the precise policy of the United States with regard to Cuba keeps the island in precarious and unsettled condition.

THE LINEN INDUSTRY

The Flax of the Northwest
Should Be Manufactured
at Duluth.

SOME GOOD ADVICE
New England Reaching Out
For This Industry and May Succeed.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 6.—(Special to The Herald)—In my correspondence with The Herald, under an Atlanta date, I had something to say about the iron and steel industry and why it would be hard to build it up at Duluth. Unless there is a radical change in present conditions, I greatly fear the industry is lost to Duluth. That being the case, there is the hope for Duluth in a manufacture of flax. What is to make of her a great city? Consider there is no other line of manufacturing that can promise me of any great development in the head of the lakes. The great industry of Duluth at present is the lumber industry, and there is any little development to be had for her. In two or three years and perhaps more, it will be hope for her. The lumber is lost to Duluth. That being the case, there is the hope for Duluth in a manufacture of flax.

creep upon a man slowly.

A man overworks. Then he neglects his health. His liver gets sluggish. His appetite fails off. The blood is improperly prepared to be used to impure. The brain and nerve tissue do not receive proper treatment and are befooled with the poisons in the blood. The man cannot sleep or eat. He becomes nervous and irritable, and, as hamilton, Dr. Peacock's book, "Modern Discovery makes the appetite hearty, the digestion perfect, the liver active, the blood pure, the brain clear, the heart steady. It makes pure blood and healthy flesh, clear, brain and nerve tissue. It cures nerve disease. No honest dealer will urge you to subscribe to the little extra profit.

"About fourteen years ago," writes C. P. White, of Englewood, N. J., "I had a severe attack of sickness, and I became despondent about my situation. I thought I was not strong enough to live, and I did not know what to do. I consulted Dr. Peacock's book, 'Modern Discovery,' and could not describe my feelings. I entered three or four doctors and they pronounced my condition to be hopeless. I was nearly dead and almost a skeleton, and every day I thought I was going to die. I procured two bottles of Dr. Peacock's Medicine, and they made a perfect cure of me. My system was built up rapidly. From a living skeleton I became a healthy man in six years of age.

KILLED BY INDIANS

Soldiers' Loss Said to Be Ten Killed and Fifteen Wounded.

Fifty Dead Indians Reported Within a Mile of the Landing.

Minneapolis, Oct. 6.—A special to the Journal from Walker, Minn., says:

I have just seen an Indian named Mah-go-guh-bo, who came over from Bear Island in a canoe at 3 a. m. He says the loss of whites is ten killed and fifteen wounded. He denies that the troops have been ambushed, but says the Indians have had the best of it. Their loss, he claims, does not exceed five killed and wounded. The forces with Bacon are probably safe and more encouragement is felt about it. I have other information that there are fifty dead Indians within a mile of the landing.

FIRING IS RESUMED, But Tinker Will Not Believe It is by Troops.

Minneapolis, Oct. 6.—Specials from Walker, Minn., say: Firing was resumed over on the mainland at 9 o'clock. From the reports of the Krag-Jorgensens I think the troops are far inland. If this is the case they are entrenched and can hold their own, unless their ammunition is exhausted. In that event there can be but one result. These troops should have got here before 2 o'clock. Every moment is ten hours at this stage of the fight. The firing is light. I can not make Tinker believe that the firing is by his men.

Marshal O'Connor has just left me. He says he will remain here until the troops arrive at noon. This is absolutely necessary, as the military can only move at his request. O'Connor had the tightest squeeze of his life. A Winchester ball passed under his arm, starting the flesh without cutting his coat.

BULLETS DID QUER THINGS yesterday. Tinker, the inspector, took refuge in the pilot house. A ball drove through the woodwork, perforated the inspector's coat sleeve in two places and also shot him in the leg. I was standing by the pilot on the Flora when a slug as big as a man's thumb just struck his back and crashed into the side of the box. My own pilot, Oscar, who was with me, while we were off Bear Island, is down with a bullet wound, as will Harris, the marshal.

There is an effort being made here now to organize a land force to march into the Point. Much time has been lost in telegraphing between here and Washington.

WHIMPERING LIKE CHILDREN. Irishmen at the Agency Anxious to Get at the Indians.

Minneapolis, Oct. 6.—A special to the Journal from Walker, Minn., says:

The third expedition to the Point has just started. There are fifteen riflemen on board, picked men. The boat carries coffee and provisions. The detail is under the direction of Dr. Camp, of Braintree, an old Indian fighter, and a man with never the name of fear.

The troops have had nothing since yesterday at noon. They have not even had a drink of whisky to sustain vitality. The night was tempestuous and dark without blankets many have suffered fearfully. Reinforcements have been wired for repeatedly, but they will arrive today. The temper of the soldiers left here is sufficient.

SITUATION IS DESPERATE. The gang that came up from Braintree under Dr. Camp are about as determined as lions. They are going to kill them all on the present expedition, and they are going to kill Indians. I expect both every man of them. The man ought to be Indian agent. Beaupre and I will go right back into the middle of the hostile Indians this afternoon. He says to me, "Well, I am here to help him he can, if bringing in the men wanted will do it. I am much more anxious the troops may not get away here will be seen to that. That is going to be an Indian exodus here as sure as the sun rose this morning. The temper of the soldiers left here is sufficient.

TO MAKE ONE GASP. The Irishmen at the agency are walking about in the dark, not a soul save many pimpered children. If ever they are allowed to get in this game no officer on earth will be able to hold them.

Lieut. Humphrey is counting the minutes until reinforcements arrive. His face is white with rage and he moves his stiff arms continuously. His command will probably be relied upon when the fresh troops come and be given a chance at the enemy. There was a fiery firing from the headsides about 10 o'clock this morning. What it was about I could not discover. I think the Indians were signaling in this manner. There were 200 men under arms.

INDIANS NOT TO BLAME. Major Kinkle very wisely closed the saloon at 8 o'clock. Drunken rowdies shooting at the street were promptly arrested. Nobody was hurt owing to the precautions taken.

I have been to the agency on my pilot was shot and I had gone aboard to get away with him.

REVIEW OF THE SITUATION. The Minneapolis Times Summarizes the Different Reports.

THE DULUTH EVENING HERALD: THURSDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1898.

Minneapolis, Oct. 6.—The Times this morning prints the following summary of the situation at Leech lake as near as can be learned:

At 2:30 o'clock this morning the only definite news from Leech lake is that 100 of the Third United States infantry, under command of Gen. Bacon, had engaged with the rebels. The Indians are ambushed and ambushed and started back for the scene of the battle at 5 o'clock.

REVIEW OF THE SITUATION. The Minneapolis Times Summarizes the Different Reports.

St. Paul, Oct. 6.—A. F. Morris, the Office staff correspondent of the Walker, Minn., telegraphs his paper as follows:

The report made by United States Marshal O'Connor, at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, is that the detachment from the Third regiment and the departmental Indian police, Indian interpreters and newspaper correspondents of the Pioneer Press, Tribune and Minneapolis Times were ambushed and ambushed and started back for Bear Island. The Indians left the scene of the battle at noon, and on arriving at the old Indian agency, put ashore and informed Lieut. Humphrey, who is in command of a squad of twenty regulars here, that the troops had come and many more were needed to reinforce him. Bacon had been to Bear Island.

Major H. H. Kinkle, in command of the relief of his command in an attempt to help him, had orders from his superiors to do so. Marshal O'Connor when he came to the latter at Walker, requested that troops be sent at once as there was danger of an Indian uprising and additional troops should be sent up to the agency. Bacon had been to Bear Island and put down the fighting Indians in any event. No reply had been received up to 8 o'clock this morning.

Early this evening the Indians began to effect that a Custer-like disaster had come in from Braintree and Duluth to add to our long list of fights with Indians.

Mr. Peffer, of the Minneapolis Journal, telegraphed that Beaton, of the Tribune, was in a critical position.

Following this came a statement from the editor at Walker that the first shot was fired by the men who were struck down. The first shot was fired at 11:30 o'clock, and at noon, when the Indians were still fighting.

The Indians had been fighting at the mainland, near Bear Island when Companies E, of the Third regiment, and F, of the 10th, under command of Lieut. H. C. Wilkinson, and G, of the 10th, under command of Gen. Bacon, were ambushed and ambushed and trapped by the Indians. The battle was a combat to the death, the Indians were cut off by the Indians while trying to capture and make prisoners. Captain Kinnison, of the 10th, was not mentioned, but was supposed to be with Beaton and his men. Underwear.

NEAREST YOUR HEART is your Underwear; hardly any dozen men of our acquaintance all like the same sort, color or weight; some buy for appearances, some for wearing qualities, some for "medicated" properties. Some like wool, some like silk, others wouldn't wear anything but cotton.

Tall men found regular drawer legs and shirt sleeves too short, short men found them too long, the average man alone could be fitted. Our Underwear stock this season will please more men than have ever before been thoroughly satisfied. Sizes include "Extra Longs" and "Extra Shorts," qualities, textures and colorings of all desirable sorts and prices no higher than last year, despite a rise in the price of goods.

READ THE PRICES:

NO ICE THERE YET

The Indians Predict a Late Fall in the Yukon Country.

NAVIGATION CLOSED

The Upper Yukon River Is
No Longer Navigable
This Year.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 7.—The United States surveying party in command of Capt. Pratt, which has been surveying the mouth of the Yukon, has returned to St. Michaels. Capt. Pratt says the supposed deep water channel at the mouth of the Yukon for large ships is a myth, although the party surveyed an 8-foot course through the Klissinuk channel. Only two government survey parties are now in the Yukon, namely, the Eldridge and the Spurr parties. Both went in by way of Cook's inlet and up the Susitna river. Spurr's party branching off and going over the Susitna. The other parties are expected back within six months.

There were no signs of ice in the Yukon up to Sept. 2. The Indians predicted a late fall and it is believed that all the Indians stated above were right.

The excitement over the reported riches of Colvian bay continues and people are leaving St. Michaels every day.

A FEW WITH GOLD.

The Last Passengers Who Came Out
From Dawson.

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 7.—Navigation on the Upper Yukon river is close. The last passengers who came out from Dawson up the river on the steamers Columbian and Canadian have arrived here, some with hard luck stories, and a few with gold. The latest news from Dawson relates to Commissioner Ogilvie's reforms. He is making sweeping changes and intends to make a new committee in the Yukon district. Mr. Jex says Sept. 13 a small army of the half world and gamblers were arrested and fined to the amount of $10,000. The money was spent in improving the streets of the city.

Wages in the Klondike are becoming lower and lower, according to J. B. Chambers of Victoria. The Klondike term now in vogue was inaugurated, he said, "by Kirkpatrick and Bonner, two of the principal mine owners of the whole district. When I left miners were hired for $100 a month and their board for the winter months."

A STRANDED STEAMER.

The Fortune Hunter Encounters a Severe Storm.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 7.—The steamers Bixlerham and Tillamook have arrived from St. Michaels with 150 passengers, about fifty of whom were from Dawson. On Sept. 16 the steamer picked up the small steam schooner Fortune Hunter, of San Francisco, about fifteen miles south of St. Michaels'. The Fortune Hunter was water-logged and in a serious condition, so she was unable to reach the port. She had ten passengers aboard, members of the Alaska and Bonanza Mining and Transportation company, of Chicago. The Fortune Hunter, on Oct. 16, Michael's Sept. 16 for Golovin bay, with a barge in tow, and was caught in a storm, so severely stricken along the coast. The barge became unstricken and the steamer stood out to sea. She became unmanageable and was drifting south when she struck the Tillamook which towed her to Golovin bay, where she was beached. An unsuccessful search was made for the barge.

Steve, Mar. 1, of Chicago, was left on the barge when the Fortune Hunter abandoned it.

CHINESE AFFAIRS.

The Chinese Foreign Office Trying to Alleviate Excitement.

Pekin, Oct. 7.—The three principal ministers of the tsung li yamen, or Chinese foreign office, visited the foreign legations in an effort to persuade the ministers to rescind the orders they have issued for an increase in the strength of the escort and legation guards. The Chinese ministers believe the presence here of the foreign soldiers is likely to exasperate the Pekin people, who will hold a conference today on the question.

It is reported that the taipai of Tien Tsing has refused to allow the passage of rapid fire guns, except on the authority of the taipai of Tien Tsing. The European ministers will hold a conference today on the escort question.

Chang Yin-Yuan, the exiled minister of the foreign yamen, and the exiled general Li Hung Chang, who has been disgraced on the charge of conspiracy against the dowager empress, started yesterday for Tientsin. Chang, who was in excellent spirits and bones, will be reinstated in office at a far distant point.

A few cases of mud throwing have been reported, but they are merely acts of filth and vagabonds. A proclamation will be issued to prohibit the infliction of capital punishment on Chinese on insulting Europeans. It is now considered likely that there will be no further disturbance of the peace.

LUMBER RAFT SAVED. San Francisco, Oct. 7.—The lumber raft which had been floated around the Pacific for two weeks has been towed into this port by a tug boat. The original raft was built at Astoria, Ore., and was taken to port for this city, but had to be abandoned in the Columbia. The raft broke up, but a greater portion of it found its way to Pigeon Point and it was this piece that was saved by the tug. It is 350 feet long and worth $75,000.

OTHER GREAT TRUST.

It is a singular fact that the two years since the election of President McKinley have witnessed the formation of more trusts and combinations of capital than during any other two years in the history of the United States. As Mr. Hays remarked, in a letter to The Herald, published yesterday, the question whether the rapid increase in the trusts and great capital combinations is a good thing for the country is certainly a timely and proper one in this and all campaigns, for something in our financial and economical systems or needs brings them, and they are likely to be with us to stay and to control. Was this great growth of trusts during the past two years produced by the Dingley tariff, or was the triumph of the gold standard in 1886 the cause? Can we have permanent and general prosperity under a system of finance which produces such gigantic combines?

Only a short time ago the Federal Steel company, a combination of great extent and vast capital, was organized. Now it is announced that a gigantic wall paper pool has been formed, including every manufacturer in America, the result of which will be to raise the price of all lines of paper to the retailer and consumer by from 25 to 50 per cent. The deal was consummated in New York, Sept. 2, with such secrecy that the facts have just begun to leak out. The old National Wall Paper company, a trust bonded for $35,000,000, is absorbed by the new company, which is known as the Continental Wall Paper company. The outside companies proved too strong for the trust, and forced the trust to come down to their terms. Prices have been made lower than those of production.

Under the new deal the factory output will be positively controlled. Each factory will be allotted its share, and must not produce more than its allotment. If orders come faster than the output, the orders must be turned over to some other factory. A grading committee fixes the price of all paper turned out, and will not allow underselling. Prices in Duluth will be the same as in New York, adding the freight. A number of firms have their very existence threatened by the new scheme, as it is proposed to reduce the number of houses to which the factories will sell at jobbers' prices. Jobbers are hustling to "square" the classification committee, and many are in mortal dread of losing their classification, in which case they will be driven out of business.

This means that more people will be crowded out of business to join the great majority who have found their occupations gone. The year of the steady process of concentration inaugurated by these great combinations. There must soon come a time when the people will be compelled, in self defense, to rise in their might and crush this gigantic evil. The first step which should be taken is to change the present system of finance and restore bimetallism in place of the destructive single gold standard.

AN INDIAN AUTHORITY.

The News Tribune has reached the sage conclusion that "the Indian is a natural fighter and a dead shot into the bargain." This is the result of years of study of the redskin, from the safe distance of New England, and will no doubt prove of value to the old residents of the Northwest whose opportunities for becoming acquainted with the characteristics of the redskin have not been so good. They will also be interested in learning from this authority on Indian warfare that "The Indians have most to fear from such expeditions as that headed by Dr. Camp of Brainerd." They may have been of the opinion that the men of the Third infantry were the best adapted to fight the Indians, inasmuch as they have been mainly engaged in this kind of work during nearly their whole period of service in the army, but it is evident the Indian authority of the morning paper thinks that, while they may be all right to fight Spaniards, they are of not much account in a conflict with Indians. But what else can you expect from a newspaper that spells Indians with a little "I"?

THE INDEMNITY LANDS.

A reader of The Herald has requested information in regard to the status of the settlers' claims to the Northern Pacific indemnity lands. All action in regard to these lands has been suspended, except that on filings already made the parties making them can proceed up and pay in their money subject to whatever rights the Northern Pacific may be allowed by the courts. If the Northern Pacific wins in the courts, those who have made filings will be granted other lands with credit for all they have done on these lands, or they can get their money back. There is a test case now pending in the United States court. One case went through the Wisconsin state courts, and the supreme court of that state decided in favor of the railroad, but it does not necessarily follow that the federal courts will give a similar decision.

A floating paragraph says: "James J. Hill, whose name figures largely in recent railroad news, is said to be the hardest man to 'interview' among all the leaders of the country." This is an instance where rumor is astray. Mr. Hill is the man to interview, probably the interviewee will have some questions to ask on subjects regarding which Mr. Hill is acquainted.

The New York Journal quotes those employers in New York city who pledged their employees who volunteered that when the latter returned from the war they should have their old positions and who have broken that pledge. The same information should be visited upon employers who would demand a sacred pledge to the nation's tread softly.

The Sherburne County Star News (Rep.), referring to Page Morris' recent speech at Elk River, says that he "was evidently tired." He will have another attack of that tired feeling when the election returns come in on the night of Nov. 8.

There are several tariff records which the Republican leaders in Minnesota would rather keep out of sight, and the News Tribune, with its limited knowledge of Minnesota politics, should treat softly.

Says the Omaha World-Herald: "Free silver is not so dead but what every daily Republican organ in the land finds it necessary to kill it a few times in every issue."

Knute Nelson's free lumber and free lumber record is a subject which the News Tribune evidently does not desire to discuss.

Perhaps the dowager empress of China might be induced to solve the problem of getting rid of Aguinaldo.

The Kansas City Star dubs Gen. Bovington apostle-general, and the title seems to stick.

Cossack had a bad scare, but it was happily nothing more than a scare.

Dick O'Connor can now claim the title of field marshal.

Among Mines In Ontonagon County to Resume Is the National.

Ontonagon—Among the mines in Ontonagon county that will resume operations this fall, the National, with the stock of which a $500,000 trust recently called. This money will be applied to the payment of the miners' im- debts and it is hoped everything will be in shape for the resumption of work.

Mining men are continually visiting the various mines of Ontonagon county, and it was thought that the miners were receiving more or less attention. The miners may be considered among the group that will require the most straightening out the title to the property.

Work is to be put in charge of the work at the old Minnesota and the new Minnesota and the Duluth company. Two shafts are being sunk on the Calumet and the Duluth, and new machinery is arriving to the mine.

PRICE IS WAVERING

Hard Coal Is Weakening and
Can Be Bought at Low Figure.

SOFT COAL IS FIRM

No Sign of Weakness in Its
Prices—September's
Large Receipts.

The price of hard coal, like the price of wheat, is steadily working downward. About two months ago the price suddenly dropped to $1.25 a ton, wholesale. This was owing to a war in the East. This was adjusted after a short time, and the price was advanced even dollar, making it $1.50. This rate, it was announced, would be strictly adhered to. It was for a time, but it was easy enough to keep it there. So it was seasonably high. The price was comparatively little business. With the coming of the season of demand for hard coal, the price has come down again. About two weeks ago it slipped back to $1.25 a ton. This is $1.50 a ton, and in cases where immediate shipment is contracted for it is $1.25 a ton. Otherwise, hard coal has commenced to move out of the head of the lakes to the interior at a pretty lively rate. October is the month of great shipping, and the price is $1.50 a ton.

The soft coal price shows no signs of weakening as does the hard coal price. Hocking is very firm at $2.25 a ton, and West Virginia is also very firm. However, making a possible concession of 10 cents for quick shipments. A few seasons ago the seamless coals were just as high in the North as the substitutes for anthracite, and they are now used more extensively than ever in the Northern towns. The red coal rates of North Dakota points made through the building of the Fosston branch of the Eastern Minnesota road have caused an increased consumption in places where wood has hitherto been used. The reduction amounts to 25 cents a ton.

The price of coal at Lake Superior points during September were large, ranging up to 25 cents a ton of anthracite and 40,000 tons of soft coal. At the head of the lakes there was received during September 303,684 tons of coal, and 10,000 tons of wood. In the same month last year, of course, the big strike last year interfered greatly with receipts. All the docks here are supplied, and will enter upon the winter's business with heavy stocks.

TAXPAYERS APPEAL.

Object to Pay Rolls For Road Work Allowed In September.

This requisite number of taxpayers have appealed to the district court from the action of the county board at the September meeting of the board. Notice was served on the county auditor yesterday signed by George Spencer, G. G. Barnum, Ward Ames, J. H. Updegraff, C. R. Johnson, C. A. Congdon, W. M. Prindell, and W. C. Lovell. There are eleven claimants appealed from, and they are from the towns of the West Knife River, Duluth and Lester. They are all property owners of the West Knife River and Lester. The proceeding is a part of the attempt to cut road expense, of which the Spencer injunction suit is also a part.

The sheriff is serving notices on the roads to be used by the injunction to show who and the county commissioners are serving others. Commissioner Dinham returned last night from serving the roads in his district with the injunction. He says that it leaves the roads in the air, with some of them in very bad shape.

REGAINED HEALTH.

Gratifying Letters to Mrs. Pinkham From Happy Women.

"I Owe You My Life."

Mrs. E. Woolisher, Mills, Neb., writes:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I owe my life to your Vegetable Compound. The doctors said I had consumption and nothing could be done for me. My menstruation had stopped and my blood was turning to water. I could not sleep at night and I had lost weight. I have been to several doctors. They all said I could not live much longer. I have used your Vegetable Compound and it helped me right away and I have gained in weight. I have better health than I have had for years. It is wonderful what your Compound has done for me."

"I Feel Like a New Person."

Mrs. Geo. Leach, 1609 Belle St., Alton, Ill., writes:

"BEFORE I began to take your Vegetable Compound I was a great sufferer from womb trouble. Menstrus would appear two or three times in a month, causing me to be weak I could not stand. I could neither sleep nor eat, and looked so badly my friends hardly knew me. I took doctor's medicine but did not derive much benefit from it. My druggist gave me one of your little books, and after reading it I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I feel like a new person. I would not give your Compound for all the doctors' medicine in the world. I can not praise it enough."

AMUSEMENTS.

"THE COMMODORE."

By far the most realistic and thrilling of the new war dramas is "The Commodore," which depicts entirely our own navy, which has had a glorious and so fortunate. This play will be given at the Lyceum next Monday evening. The curtain rises at 8 o'clock. The play is produced with a United States vessel, which is shown with a splendid action picture, in which exact models of the navy's 4-inch guns are used. The scenes are in the engine room of the vessel, with all the machinery in motion. The Commodore had a 3-weeks' run.

Chorus at the beginning of the play is a grand success. All the scenery is carried.

M. S. BURROWS.

IT GROWS STRONGER

More Evidence That George St. Clair Is Victim of Mistaken Identity.

HALEY SAW THE MAN

Was In His Restaurant Monday Morning—St. Clair Not the One.

Another case has come to light tending to show that George St. Clair is not the one who has been floating forged checks, and that he is the victim of a case of mistaken identity. It transpires that on Sunday afternoon, about 2 o'clock, a man, described as being shorter and stouter and having different colored eyes than St. Clair, offered a $40 check purporting to have been issued by P. McDonnell at Haley & Haley's, 206 West Superior street, in payment for a meal and a meal book. Manager Haley, to whom the check was offered, describes it as bearing the words "P. McDonnell, contractor," printed across the end in plain black letters, which is the kind of lettering that is on the checks purporting to be issued by the Electric company and the Kelley Hardware company. Mr. Haley does not remember what bank the check was on nor to whose order it was made out.

Mr. Haley questioned the man, and the latter said that he had been working for Mr. McDonnell, and that Mr. McDonnell was out of town. This Mr. Haley knew to be untrue, as he had seen Mr. McDonnell on the street, in sport coat and bowler. The man said, also, that he wanted to get the check cashed right away, as he intended to go to the station tomorrow, whereas the train had then been gone an hour. Mr. Haley declined to cash the check.

Monday morning Mr. Haley saw the man again, this time in the restaurant west between Superior and Franklin streets, about 7 o'clock. The man was going up the hill, he recognized Mr. Haley and said, "Mr. Haley, be certain that Mr. St. Clair is not the man." Mr. McDonnell now says that he is not willing to swear that Mr. St. Clair is the man who cashed the check in his store. One of Mr. Freimuth's clerks who saw the man who cashed the check does not think that St. Clair is he, while two others think he is.

The police are now pretty well satisfied that Mr. St. Clair is not the man, and it is quite probable that the charge against him will be dismissed before the date for the hearing.

Refuse to Accept It.

At a meeting of the congregation of the Second Presbyterian church last evening it was determined not to accept the resignation of the pastor, Rev. T. M. Findley. The matter had come up before the session, Dr. T. C. Cleary, president, as moderator, at the meeting. There was a lengthy discussion of the matter. The motion not to accept was carried by a vote of 20 to 18.

It was decided that the apathy of the members of the congregation was the only reason for Rev. Findley's desire to resign.

Want Nine-Hour Day.

The employing printers of Duluth have been notified by job printers and pressmen that they demand a 9-hour day. A 20-day notice is required under the agreement. It is understood that job printers and pressmen are to go on strike, and open shop, if no agreement is reached.

A meeting of the local employers will probably be held in a few days to consider the demand.

The present scale of $17 a week will be reduced to $16 under the demands of the men.

Complaint Was Bad.

The September term of district court is not yet finished, but it is so near that there is not much left of it. Yesterday afternoon the case of King & Steele against J. Carroll Boller and his company was taken up, and the defense objected to the introduction of any testimony on the ground that the complaint was defective. The court held that the defense was bad, and sustained the objection. The plaintiffs were given ten days in which to amend the complaint, and the trial will continue to the next term of court. There is one case left on the calendar, that of Harry Bigood against Fannie Bisgood, and that was not taken up today.

Reception Postponed.

The reception to the soldiers that was to have been given at the First Methodist church this evening has been postponed to Wednesday night, at the request of Company C, on account of the death of John McEwen.

STYLING, QUALITY and WORKMANSHIP

Are the essential requirements in the make-up of dressy and becoming garments—the cheapening process, or more correctly, the general disposition of manufacturers for the past few years, to endeavor to produce goods at lesser and lesser prices, lead the majority of them to lose sight of one or the other of the above requirements, and today there are but a few CLOAKMAKERS who pay critical attention to every detail in the make-up of garments such as give all well-dressed women grace and shapeliness of their own.

THE GARMENTS WE SELL are made by the best and most prominent makers in the land. A Cloak or Jacket bought from us will give the utmost satisfaction to the wearer. You pay no more here for the best made than other places charge for poorly made and ill-fitting Cloaks. To demonstrate the superiority of style, quality and immense assortment of our Cloak Dept., we quote special and extraordinary values for tomorrow's trade.

MURDER SENSATION

A Brother of Mrs. McKinley is Shot Down at Canton.

A WOMAN ARRESTED

She is a Dakota Divorcee and Had Made Several Threats.

Canton, Oct. 8.—George D. Saxton, a brother of Mrs. William McKinley, was shot dead at 6:15 o'clock this evening in front of the residence of Mrs. Eva B. Althouse, widow of the late George Althouse, 319 Lincoln avenue, where he is presumed to have gone to make a call.

Five shots were fired, three of which entered the body, and Mrs. Anna C. George had been placed under arrest on suspicion of murder. Saxton was unconscious when neighbors arrived to investigate the cause of the shooting, and was carried, with the physicians and officers arrived, to the hospital, where he expressed the opinion that death was instantaneous, three bullets having entered the body. His statement indicated that he had been to the home of Althouse residence when the shots were fired.

The body was taken to an undertaker's room and placed in charge of the coroner. Immediately after the autopsy it will be taken to the home of M. C. Barber, a brother-in-law, where Saxton, who was then unmarried, made his home.

Mr. Saxton left the Barber home about 6 o'clock, riding his bicycle, and was the last seen of him by his friends. The Althouse home was dark and locked, and the neighbors said Mrs. Althouse, who had been home for the past three days, one of the neighbors, said the woman, supposed to have done the shooting, had passed lack of the house.

Mrs. George took her supper as usual at a downtown restaurant at 4:45, and some time later was on a west-bound car, returning to the motorman's story, got off at Hazlett and the Althouse home. About 9 o'clock she was taken by the police officers and locked up. The police, after hearing her was due principally to the fact that she moved from her old home yesterday.

Mrs. George, the divorced wife of Semple C. George, who was a tenant of Saxton in his downtown business block, conducting a dressmaking shop, her divorce was obtained in Dakota, and is now proceeding in local courts by the husband against Saxton charged that Saxton had sent her the money in the hope of getting the proceeding heard before the divorce for the alleged alienation of the wife's affections. This case has been three years in the intermediate courts and was passed up to the state supreme court on an interpleading, and finally remanded for hearing on its merits.

Before this occurred, and on Wednesday, a settlement was effected, Saxton paying George $125 on the claim set up by the wife's attorney. Mrs. George also had several cases against Saxton, claiming the detention of furniture, the defense of Saxton being that the articles were over due rent in the room. Mrs. Althouse, who had no residence the shooting occurred several months ago began peace proceedings against Mrs. George, alleging that her life had been threatened.

William Clegg lives next to the Althouse residence on the corner of West Thirteenth and Lincoln avenue. He said:

"I heard the shooting. I was sitting in the room reading. In two or three minutes I heard two more noises that sounded like gunshots. I ran to the door and saw a crowd coming across the street and went out myself. Then I found George was Saxton apparently lifeless.

For some time Mrs. George has been living at 1516 West Tuscarawas street, about five blocks away from where the shooting occurred. Early in the week she is said to have packed up her household goods and to have shipped them to her mother's home at Hanover. Since her goods have been gone she has been living at the rooms of Mrs. Jake Oberlin, in the same house she left the house about 9 o'clock this morning and did not return. While the officers were taking Mrs. Oberlin into custody, Mrs. George was seen walking across a lot nearby. As she attempted to go into the house to get in the back way she was arrested and brought to police headquarters. When she was brought into the station she seemed to be asleep. She was given a chair, and one of the officers put a small cap, which she carried and placed it on the table. Prosecuting Attorney Pomeroy, who was present, pulled his chair in front of her and said:

"Mrs. George, where were you at 6 o'clock?"

Mrs. George called Turnley Becher and whispered something in his ear. He spoke to the prosecuting attorney and then told him he would not grant her request. The question as to what she was about at the hour named was repeated. She answered in a perfectly calm and quiet manner.

"Pardon me sir; I will talk when the proper time comes."

"Did you not go out on the street cars about that time?"

There was no answer to the question.

"Will you say to you, Mrs. George," said the prosecutor, "that if we had nothing to do with this we will not detain you a moment?"

There was no answer and the prosecutor said:

"It has been said to me that you threatened to kill me. Is that true?"

"There was no answer to the question."

"Why did you have any business there at that time?" No reply.

"Was it you came up through the swamps to the Tuscarawas street and where did you come from?"

Still no answer.

"We will tell where you have been since 6 o'clock. I can tell you there are a great many hours on your dress. Will you tell where you got them?"

No answer. Mrs. George's face moved and her head did not move a particle to see whether there were any burns on her dress.

This ended the examination.

Mrs. George was taken into the Return of Sudan Troops.

London, Oct. 8.—Special London cable letter, copyrighted 1888, by the Associated Press.—The event of the week, so far as London is concerned, was the return of the first battalion of Grenadier guards from the Sudan, 1,200 troops lining the streets from Waterloo railway station to Wellington barracks, and the enthusiastic demonstration of a like nature shown by the British troops from the Cis-Sudan war.

There was a brilliant gathering of military officers at the station, and the stations; but there was some dead desire to express anything like enthusiasm, for the soldiers were all in uniform, cold, "How are you, old chaps?" was the most affectionate greeting heard. One lad, a young officer as he emerged from the train, and kissed him. He submitted his hat shyly, as though it was also a British soldier in the guilty of a tone is desired.

Many serious illnesses have their inception in the Sudan, and the medical officer, Dr. Piercy Goldie, of Medway, is sure, says Goldie, that the disease is a severe and permanent cure for the disorders of the digestion. It also cures all of the diseases that have been mentioned in this disorder. It is a pronounced remedy for giddiness, sick headache, pain in the stomach, fullness and swelling after meals, and frequent diarrhoea.

Dr. Piercy's Pleasant Pellets are a sure, speedy and permanent cure for constipation. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative and one little cathartic. They never harm, and are unmixed, made in the shape of a small tablet.

WHY DID HE FAVOR IT?

Neither in his speech at the Army nor in his later address at the meeting did Judge Morris attempt an answer to Mr. Towne's question why he favored a duty of $2 per 1000 on lumber when the McKinley law imposed a duty of $1, which was the first Dingby bill was before the Senate. Mr.

Towne tried to get a duty of $1 fixed on white pine. Mr. Dingby and his Republican associates decided that $0 cents was sufficient, and no loud outcry was made by the lumbermen. They wanted a $1 duty, but did not claim that they would be seriously injured by a $0-cent duty. Not until the second Dingby bill was being prepared was a word uttered in favor of a higher duty than $1, and the agitation for the $2 duty was started by the yellow pine men of the South, who sent a strong lobby to Washington in its support.

Then some of the large owners of stumps of the Northwest engaged Page Morris to go to Washington and join the lobby for the $2 duty. It was rumored at the time that he would not go until he was given a retainer and his expenses were guaranteed.

The yellow pine lobby, aided by the Northwest pine lumbermen, won and the duty of $2 was incorporated in the bill, after the chief manager of the lobby at Washington stated that such a duty would be prohibitory and add millions of dollars to the wealth of the pine land ring.

In his letter to Judge Morris, which was published in The Herald recently, Mr. Towne said:

"Do you know that the McKinley bill, framed by the one man whose name is the symbol of the modern Republican idea of protection, was satisfied with $1 per 1000? If I had been in Congress I should have voted against $2 and in favor of $1, and when the first Dingby tariff passed the house, while I was a member, I endeavored to secure a rate for our lumbermen here in behalf of a $1 duty instead of only 60 cents per 1000, as provided by the bill. I believe the McKinley duty was high enough. Don't you think $1 is sufficient?"

Mr. King said that $1 per 1000 a sufficient duty in 1890 would be the same duty in 1897 or 1898, when at least half the white pine standing when he protected it has been cut? Did the lumbermen seriously complain of the $1 duty in 1890? In times of ordinary activity, was not the lumber business profitable under a duty of $1 per 1000? Ought the industry in Justice to have asked more than that? Should not a member of congress try to represent the interests of all his constituents?"

Up to date Judge Morris has failed to explain why he favored a $2 duty in preference to a $1 duty as the McKinley tariff provided. Why did he favor it? Was it because he thought the interests of the millionaire owners of pine lands should be consulted in preference to the interests of the rest of the people who are consumers of lumber?

SHOULD PRACTICE CONSISTENCY.

Page Morris professed to be much horrified because Mr. Towne prepared an argument in favor of an application for free lumber for a former Duluth lumberman by whom his law firm had been regularly retained. Mr. Towne personally favored a duty of $1, but in his professional capacity he prepared an argument in favor of free lumber. That was fully justified in so acting in his professional capacity every unprejudiced person will admit. If Mr. Towne had been a member of congress at the time and consequently a paid servant of the Panama canal enterprise, Gen. Abbot has surely examined the works at the Panama, and has studied in every detail the plans now adopted for finishing this great work. According to Gen. Abbot the work actually done by the old company is estimated to have been an expenditure of about $125,000,000; and the cost of the work remaining to be done to complete the canal ready for traffic is set at $100,000,000. The time required to complete the canal is apparently fixed by the excavation remaining to be done on the great Culebra cut, and is set at ten years. The interest charges on the company's securities during this period are apparently not included in the above $100,000,000, and will increase the cost of the canal by one-fourth or more.

The Engineering News says: "The most important matter upon which Gen. Abbot touches in his paper—least of all Americans—is the relative merits of the Panama and Nicaragua enterprises and we are often asked what this seems to us the weakest point as well, for points in which the Nicaragua route has advantages over its more southern rival are left untouched. We shall not attempt, however, a discussion of the relative merits of these two enterprises at this time, for the very good reason that the public is not yet in possession of the data which would enable a fair and intelligent comparison to be made."

Healed the Wound

Abscess Was Lanced but Would Not Heal Until Hood's Sarsaparilla Purified His Blood—Now a Healthy Boy.

"Our little boy had a large abscess on one side of his head, back of a ear. It became as large as a pint cup. We had it lanced, but it would not heal, though the wound would never heal. It would get better for a short time and then the body would break out again. The boy's body was covered all over with itchy pimples and blisters. We decided to give him Hood's Sarsaparilla, and, to our great joy, it has entirely cured him. He was always a weak and puny child, but since taking Hood's Sarsaparilla he is strong and rugged, and as healthy a boy as anyone could wish to see." T. L. Jones, Bluffton, Minnesota. Manager of the Chicago-Virginia Coal Company Secures Several Injunctions.

St. Louis, Oct. 10.—A special Post Dispatch from Carlinville, Ill., says:

"Upon petition of Fred W. Lukens, manager of the Chicago-Virginia Coal company, Judge Oscar T. Sturgis has issued an order upon the circuit court of Macoupin county, directing him to issue writs of injunction against a number of Virginia coal miners and miner citizens. These writs are returnable at the January term of court. Officers began serving the papers to-day.

In the petition Mr. Lukens cites that his property is encumbered by the actions of the men employed, who will also be issued against strikers who assisted in running the Chicago depots out of Virgina. Other legal proceedings are in progress. The strikers are under way of being executed.

IS LAID AT REST

Funeral of Private John G. McEwen of Company C Yesterday Afternoon.

IMMENSE GATHERING

Duluth Battalion Gives Him a Military Burial--Beautiful Floral Offerings.

Private John McEwen was laid at rest yesterday afternoon with impressive ceremonies. He was given a soldier's burial, the whole of the Duluth battalion taking part in the last rites.

The funeral was one of the largest ever held in Duluth. The family of the deceased was one of the oldest in the city and the deceased was a general favorite among his companions. He is the only member of the Duluth companies who has been lost.

The body was taken to the Army yesterday morning where it lay in state until 1:30 p.m. It was then taken over to the church. From the Army it was escorted to the First Methodist church by a cortège consisting of the Duluth band, the First Fire Department, the G. A. R. Post, the A. O. U. W., the Trades assembly, a squad of police, the band of the firing squad and carriages containing the relatives and immediate friends.

The church was packed to a large number and persons were turned away. The exterior and porch were covered with wreaths and flowers, and disposed on and around the casket were a profusion of green and gold. The services were conducted by all for those qualities of sterling integrity which distinguished his friends.

As we saw him, he was one who exhibited brilliant prospects for the uncertainties of war, and, passing through all the vicissitudes of the ranks, he had with his many temptations and difficulties, he came forth unscathed and with a character of which all could be proud.

The ways of God are inexplicable, and when he was taken from us and our loved ones were taken from us and whose future held so much promise, we cannot now understand, but must bow our heads to the inevitable and await the day when the ranks shall be unbroken in the happy home above.

Mr. McEwen had no enemies, and when he was laid to rest, we have met with such genuine and pre-emptive success as "The Commodore," which will be seen at the Lyceum on October 12. Our sympathy goes to the production in Chicago, the Inter Ocean said: "The climaxes are well devised for arousing enthusiasm. The play is a success of interests. It has been liberally stamped with plenty of sentimental episodes and patriotic put-ons. The letter from Mrs. Foreman is only one of thousands."

AMUSEMENTS.

"THE COMMODORE."--It is the first time in the region that the play will be given. The author has met with such genuine and pre-emptive success as "The Commodore," which will be seen at the Lyceum on October 12. Our sympathy goes to the production in Chicago, the Inter Ocean said: "The climaxes are well devised for arousing enthusiasm. The play is a success of interests. It has been liberally stamped with plenty of sentimental episodes and patriotic put-ons. The letter from Mrs. Foreman is only one of thousands."

GET FLESH.

Get Strength, Vigor, Clear Complexion and Good Digestion, Not By Patent Medicine, But In Nature's Own Way.

Any honest physician will tell you that there is but one way to get increased flesh: all the patient medicines and cold liver oil to the contrary notwithstanding.

Nature has but one way to increase flesh, mind, and body, and that is through the stomach, stomach, food well digested. There is no reason or common sense in other method whatever.

That is the only way, and comes from principle. The deceased had come from a strong stock. His family had a hold on the community because the family had a hold on the church, had, after the mothers' death, taken her place and had welded the family together, the strength of human ties. How the deceased must have suffered from homesickness in leaving such a home. Yet he had never complained.

The deceased had never omitted his daily Bible reading. That is that we often required bravery. And he never forgot his God. That was the kind of a boy he was, never hasty. Might God grant that all may learn a lesson from his life.

Rev. Dr. Findley, of the First Presbyterian church, spoke next. The whole community suffered with the bereaved family, he said. Somebody died if humanity shall live and go onward and upward. This was Duluth's contribution to the altar of humanity.

A minute later, then rendered "The Vacant Chair." The services were closed by a benediction by Rev. T. M. Findley.

The cortège then moved to the cemetery, the City band playing Chapin's funeral march. The burial was under the direction of Company C. When the casket had been placed in the grave, a short prayer was offered by Rev. M. Findley. The firing squad then stepped forward and fired three volleys over the grave, the soldiers farewell to a dead comrade. But when Studley then sounded "Taps" and it was over.

The following resolutions on the death of Private John McEwen were adopted at a meeting of the Duluth battalion last night:

The hand of Almighty God having been extended to claim our comrade John McEwen, we, the members of Company C, Fourteenth Minnesota volunteers, in memory of our friends and companions in all the various scenes the privations and struggles of army life, and who have been so closely associated in camp that their mutual experiences while in camp or on the march, desire to express the deep sense

PATIENT BURNED TO DEATH.

Result of Unreasonable Panic Now Afflicting Mississippi.

Jackson, Miss., Oct. 10.—An unknown white man supposed to be a yellow fever patient was burned up in an old church in Le Flore county yesterday. This news reached here last night in a letter from Dr. T. B. Harrison, health officer in Talahatchie county. The man was found sick yesterday by negroes who had gone to prepare the church for church services. The doctor left and when he returned found the man in ashes and a few charred bones to tell the story. It is not positive that the patient had yellow fever and the doctor said that he was dead. An ungrateful friend suggested that a dead Mississippian had to answer for it. This is the third illustration of an unmerciful panic now afflicting this state.

HORRIBLE STATE OF AFFAIRS.

Dr. Wetmore Makes Serious Charges Regarding an Insane Asylum.

Topeka, Kan., Oct. 10.—Dr. C. H. Wetmore has tendered his resignation as superintendent of the state insane asylum at Topeka to Governor Leedy and the state board of charities. Accompanying the resignation was a letter to the governor in which Dr. Wetmore gave his reasons for resigning. The doctor tells of the death of Leedy from neglect, speaks of the alleged insensitivity of the state and incompetent care over the institution. The "states" charges that a state "lunatic" exists at the asylum; accuses Chairman G. J. Johnson, the state board of charities, of having been on a continual debauch for the past fifteen months, and openly charges subordinate officials with attempting to ruin pure women.

DATES OF EVACUATION.

Spaniards Will Leave Cuba By End of November.

Minneapolis, Oct. 10.—A report reached here last evening of a white man near Bear Island yesterday.

Soldiers living near the Indian reservation are seeking shelter in towns along the railroads.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 10.—At 10 o'clock this morning 139 men of the Fourteenth Minnesota left for towns on the Fosston extension of the Great Northern road on the northern border of the Leech Lake reservation. Lieut. Col. Johnson was in command and had with him Maj. Schaeffer, Capt. Holmes, Adjt. Wimpe, Capt. Surgeon Dorsey, Lieut. Baker, Brisbin, Smiley, O'Brien and Quartermaster Cox. The men carried tents, 100 rounds of ammunition and several days of rations.

The detachment for the Fourteenth.

Left all the twelve companies are represented.

They will be stationed mostly at Fosston and Bemidji.

The special train goes by the Eastern Minnesota to Duluth, thence west on the Fosston line.

BATTERY A AT CASS LAKE.

Presence of Troops Causes a Feeling of Security.

Cass Lake, Minn., Oct. 10.—Battery A, of St. Paul, is the center of attraction here, and the new depot where the fifty men stop is surrounded by a curious crowd of several hundred people, almost the entire town. The Indian reservation exists at Deer River, forty-one miles down the road, where Battery A of Minnesota was left. A feeling of security was inspired by the presence of troops armed with Springfield rifles, and the shore of the lake was quiet. The Indians made safety seem almost certain.

The Indian who is not believed to be critical and impulsive, who is not a friend to the settlers here, but they manifested their feeling of discontent at every opportunity.

Orton is divided as to the probability of the Indians attacking, and reluctantly adhering to the idea that the Cass Lake Indians will not fight. They say that the tribe is not averse to fighting, but the Indians are not the people of this city, and they could not afford to spook such a good thing as the Indians.

The Indians would be regarded as cause for alarm.

The Indians in this immediate vicinity are the Cass Lake band, this town being on the line of their trail. In the early morning they have been going north, and, taking out of harm's way, and it is possible that they will be in the Cass Lake region as the most timid Deer River Indians.

They have also been seen in the vicinity of the Lake of the Woods.

FLATMOUTH'S DEMAND.

Alleged That He Wants the Troops Removed at Once.

Minneapolis, Oct. 10.—A speech to the Tribune from Walker, Minn., says:

At midnight last night it looked as though the worst fears of every one in this city were realized. Gen. Bacon declined to talk for publication that he was worried there is no doubt, for the first time since he has returned from the scene of the fight.

Flatmouthe's demand that the Indians may be on the warpath before another day has passed.

At the council held at midday, he will deliver this morning, asking that the Indians be removed.

The Indians are to be removed, and the authorities that in the event of a refusal to do this will join the hostile Indians.

Agency Indians Post Pickets to Keep Out Hostiles.

Walker, Minn., Oct. 10.—When the troops reached the agency they found that the Indians had been massed and maintained a picket line covering the whole line of the woods which surround the settlement. As many as fifty of the Indians have done picket duty. Now the Indians are on guard these formal preparations for the attack, probably abandoned, but there will be Indian scouts out all the time ready to even look dangerous. They will not be those who know that these agency Indians would not hesitate to kill a man as quickly as they could a soldier.

Saturday night Major George G. Hart, one of the head men of the Bear Island Indians, arrived on the agency point with twenty-seven canoe loads of bear.

PATIENT BURNED TO DEATH.

Result of Unreasonable Panic Now Afflicting Mississippi.

Jackson, Miss., Oct. 10.—An unknown white man supposed to be a yellow fever patient was burned up in an old church in Le Flore county yesterday. This news reached here last night in a letter from Dr. T. B. Harrison, health officer in Talahatchie county. The man was found sick yesterday by negroes who had gone to prepare the church for church services. The doctor left and when he returned found the man in ashes and a few charred bones to tell the story. It is not positive that the patient had yellow fever and the doctor said that he was dead. An ungrateful friend suggested that a dead Mississippian had to answer for it. This is the third illustration of an unmerciful panic now afflicting this state.

BATTERY A AT CASS LAKE.

Presence of Troops Causes a Feeling of Security.

Cass Lake, Minn., Oct. 10.—Battery A, of St. Paul, is the center of attraction here, and the new depot where the fifty men stop is surrounded by a curious crowd of several hundred people, almost the entire town. The Indian reservation exists at Deer River, forty-one miles down the road, where Battery A of Minnesota was left. A feeling of security was inspired by the presence of troops armed with Springfield rifles, and the shore of the lake was quiet. The Indians made safety seem almost certain.

The Indian who is not believed to be critical and impulsive, who is not a friend to the settlers here, but they manifested their feeling of discontent at every opportunity.

Orton is divided as to the probability of the Indians attacking, and reluctantly adhering to the idea that the Cass Lake Indians will not fight. Myron D. Taylor Receives His Appointment Today.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 10.—Governor Tanner had a sharp controversy with Manager Lukens of the Chicago Vicksburg Company, in regard to sending troops to Vicksburg. The operators have been planning to use imported negroes to fill the places of strikers. Manager Lukens, in reply to a question, would operate his mine, if necessary, at the muzzle of Winchesters. Governor Tanner said he would not send negroes to assist in operating his mine, and the operators attempted to enforce their ideas in regard to the Winchesters to be sent to the men of the National Guard to Vicksburg to disarm all.

Whichever people constituted the site and the manner of fortifying it, it is practically impossible to get it made to practice in fortifying it to make it practically impervious for an attacking force armed with the weapons of the people of that day.

GLOWING REPORTS.

Returning Alaskans Report
Rich Strikes in Two Different Places There.

Port Townsend, Wash., Oct. 11.—The steamer Topeka has arrived from Alaska bringing about 300 passengers from the various northern mining districts. Many of the Topeka's passengers are from Dawson. They bring but little gold. They left Dawson Sept. 23 and came up the river on the steamer Flora. Ex-rayed to the transom of the Flora, which was about the Flora, when he was up the river, fell overboard and came near being drowned. A life buoy was thrown him and he was picked up. He also brought up a number of the Forty Mile district. A Rock Island company has a complete hydraulic plant at the mouth of Forty Mile creek which is twenty miles from the mouth of the creek, on the ice this winter and placed in operation early in the spring. The company has a number of men ground on which men with rockers have been making from $5 to $10 per day. The company is working only a few cubic feet per day.

A San Jose company, which went to the Kanai peninsula early last spring, made a stake on Copper creek a tributary of Kanai river, which indicates well and owing to the high grade plant but owing to the cost of supplies had to be compelled to abandon work for the season. G. W. Towle, manager for the company, is well of the property. He reports the discovery of extensive copper deposits between Homer City and Resurrection bay. The company has sufficient gold to pay for working and it is working now for reach of salt water.

Returning Klondikeans report complete the transom of the river. Canoes and tents are being loaded of supplies by parties who are trying to work their way into Dawson without money. Seven parties have been robbed of their entire outfit and compelled to return.

COAST SIGNALS

Report on the Effectiveness of This Branch of War Service.

PERMANENT SYSTEM

Service Should Be an Integral Part of National Coast Defense.

Washington, Oct. 11.—A complete history of the operations of the United States coast signal service is presented in the report of Capt. John R. Bartlett, who was the superintendent of that service. The institution was born of the emergency created by the war and Capt. Bartlett shows how, within one week after the orders had gone out by telegraph the entire coast was under observation from a chain of stations extending from Maine to Texas. There were eight districts in which were distributed thirty-six stations, officered and manned by the state naval militia, a force of eighteen officers and one hundred men.

The largest force was necessarily on duty in Florida, five officers and fifty-two men, while Massachusetts had two others, and forty-one men. New Jersey and Pennsylvania had each five men.

It was the purpose of these observers probably to detect and report immediately to headquarters in Washington by telegraph or telephone the approach of an enemy's ship. But actually most of the coast stations never served. Lists of the stations were prepared and issued to the various steamship companies and a "notice to mariners" was published in the Associated Press and by it to every newspaper in the country.

The necessity of covering the long stretch of coast between the stations led to the employment of a coast service of the crews of the life-saving service, the light house and weather bureau service, in co-operating. When these arrangements had been completed the observing powers of the 210 men of material met at the thirty-six stations of the coast signal service were reinforced by the successful efforts of the life-saving service, including 140 men of the alert light keepers in the lighthouses, 100 men of the weather bureau with a total number of thirty-three officers. Thus an aggregate of 250 men were on the lookout for the approach of an enemy's vessel or of the signal craft of any sort, and ready to report the movement of the vessels belonging to our coast, including all the auxiliary ships and transports.

Capt. Bartlett says that the practical value of the service for the first three months of its existence convinced him that it would have served the use for which it was established, namely, to observe and report the approach of an enemy's vessel or of the signal craft of any sort, and ready to report the movement of the vessels belonging to our coast, including all the auxiliary ships and transports.

Capt. Bartlett suggests that the practical value of the service for the first three months of its existence convinced him that it would have served the use for which it was established, namely, to observe and report the approach of an enemy's vessel or of the signal craft of any sort, and ready to report the movement of the vessels belonging to our coast, including all the auxiliary ships and transports.

But the most valuable result of the work in the judgment of Capt. Bartlett, has been to determine the points along the coast at which signal stations are necessary. The captain thinks that the coast signal service should be an integral part of a national coast defense system, managing the military of whose services he speaks in the highest terms. As an outline of a permanent system, Capt. Bartlett says: "The coast signal service is maintained by every European country. The coast signal service is maintained by every European country. Capt. Bartlett suggests that each life-saving station should be made a coast signal station, the transportation and well disciplined crews making good material for signal men. The weather bureau stations and such lighthouses as are necessary, may also be made a part of the system."

Permanent coast signal stations should be established at these points: Monroe, N. J.; New Haven, Conn.; Masse.; Highland Lights, Mass.; Montauk Point, N. J.; Fire Island, N. Y.; Sandy Hook, N. J.; Barneget, N. J.; Cape Henlopen, Del.; New Haven, Conn.; Morris Island, S. C.; Tybee Island, Ga.; Palm Beach, Fla.; and Sand Island, Fla.

Capt. Bartlett suggests a list of equipment for these stations, including homing pigeons, which he says must be trained for one year to be of service. He says the signal system could be economically inaugurated and operated. In time of peace it would be a constant convenience to the navy department and authorities of the country and a constant protection would prepare the men for the emergency of war. It is most essential, in his judgment, to meet and commercial interests of the United States.

MODERN MECCA

What Jerusalem Was to Crusaders Pittsburg is to the Knights.

THE PARADE TODAY

A Least a Million Spectators Lined the Route of March.

Pittsburg, Oct. 11.—What Jerusalem was to the crusaders almost 1000 years ago, that was this city today to the Knights Templar. All night and early this morning every railroad leading into the city, every street car line entering from the surrounding suburbs, came in load with cars holding thousands and thousands of people. The railroads, anticipating the rush, had made every preparation to convey all comers to the "Mecca" of modern pilgrims and from the railroads of several hundred miles the towns, hamlets and villages poured their populations.

There could not have been a more glorious day for a parade of Knights Templar. The grand conclave held in 1816 in New York city could not be equalled with this ideal day. The sun rose over the city of the Allegheny mountains in a sky of azure.

Not a cloud was to be seen over the city with the soft, zephyr-like breezes of autumn tempering the warm radiance of the sun that might have been tempted to encourage the marchers to perspiration.

The hour for the parade was set for 10 o'clock a. m. and from early dawn every building and everything was astir at the various headquarters of the different commanderies preparing for the march. In the yards of the railroad depots and the hotels all was life and bustle, and soon the first troupe of plumed knights, dressed in the full regalia of their various positions, in the order, appeared to march the street. Here and there, looking upon them and now the march to the grand review.

At 8 o'clock all down-town streets were filled with different detachments of men, each had its own band of music, the most of the bands began to rend the air with a march of marches and patriotic songs.

At 9 o'clock the grand review.

In the meantime the points of vantage along the route of the parade were rapidly being filled up. Seats had been erected all along the route and the grand review.

At 10 o'clock the grand review.

THE REAL ISSUE.

The St. Paul Dispatch has made a remarkable discovery. It has found "the real issue" in this campaign which it thinks should decide the election in the Sixth and Seventh congressional districts.

The fact that the election in these districts will be "close," according to the Dispatch's own statement, is the reason that it started out on a search for "the real issue."

The scalps of Page Morris and Frank Eddy are in serious danger. Hence to the people of those northern districts these suggestions, "so far as the 'real issue' as discovered by the St. Paul paper, apply."

And here is the "real issue" as discovered by the St. Paul paper.

They should understand what the real national issue now pending is in order that they may vote intelligently. It is not free silver nor free trade. It is this: Shall the president, in concluding the negotiations with Spain, be upheld and strengthened by a vote of confidence from the people? The election of a Republican house of representatives is necessary to show most clearly to Spain that the president has the backing of the people in enforcing his conditions of peace. The enemy—for such the Spaniard should be unambiguously told that he will not be beaten by any fire in the rear from a Democratic congress. Thus the question before the voter is: Shall he enforce the demands of our peace commissioners, by helping to elect a Republican congress, or shall he encourage the Spaniards to hold out for better terms, by voting for a Democrat?

Now isn't that a splendid issue with which to attempt to save Page Morris and Frank Eddy from their impending defeat? The president, we are told, must be upheld in his negotiations with Spain. And one of the "upholders" that the Dispatch has in mind is Page Morris, who has yet not decided whether the Maine was destroyed by an internal explosion or was blown up by the treacherous Spaniards! What a valuable asset he would be in upholding or strengthening the president! The editor of the Dispatch, who offers such a wildly absurd suggestion, should be once assigned to the charge of the humorously colored.

There is no issue, there can be no issue, in the Sixth district at least on the question of upholding the president, the negotiations with Spain, and the same is probably true in the Seventh district. Mr. Towne and Mr. Ringold are as true, loyal and patriotic Americans as Messrs. Morris and Eddy and they, in common with every other patriotic citizen of this country, stand ready to support the president in enforcing all the demands made upon Spain by our peace commissioners now sitting in Paris. They will stand by the president, not because he is a Republican, but because he is the head of the United States government, the representative and the mouthpiece of the sovereign American people in the negotiations with Spain looking to the conclusion of a treaty of peace. If the president needs to be upheld and strengthened at this time, if he required aid to enforce the demands of our peace commissioners, then the people should send to congress men of ability, of strength and of patriotism. And who possesses these qualities in a greater degree than Mr. Towne? The Towne, of course, has words of great eloquence which frequently crossed the enthusiasm of the people of the Sixth district? The Dispatch will have to look again for an "issue" that will prevent the election of Mr. Towne.

NOT PROTECTION, BUT ROBBERY.

Neither Mr. Morris nor his organ in Duluth has yet offered a single valid reason why a duty of $2 was placed on pine lumber, while President McKinley, when in congress and those associated with him on the ways and means committee were agreed that $1 was sufficient, and when Mr. Dingley and the other Republican members of the committee that prepared the first Dingley bill were enough to protect the industry from cheap labor competition in other countries.

Every cent above $1 added to the price of lumber since the imposition of the $2 duty is an outrageous tax upon the consumer of lumber for the benefit of a few millionaires pine land owners and has not benefited a single man employed by those pine land owners. The $1 duty would have been sufficient to offset the extra wage cost and placed our lumber dealers on an equality with all competitors, and this was the avowed object of the protective policy as enunciated by James G. Blaine, William McKinley and other leading protectionists in past years. This was why Mr. Towne favored the $1 duty and why he opposed a duty of $2 to enrich the few millionaires pine land owners and to benefit the people who desire to build residences, that the farmers who want to erect barns and fences, should be compelled to pay an additional tax for the exclusive benefit of the pine land ring. Mr. Morris, on the other hand, shut his eyes to the interests of the Northwest. He did not believe that the people who desire to build residences, that the farmers who want to erect barns and fences, should be compelled to pay an additional tax for the exclusive benefit of the pine land ring.

Mr. Morris is a man whose record in public life will stand the closest scrutiny. Some political opponents sneer when he is referred to as "Honest John Lind," but the record which he has made both in public and private life entitles him to be thus designated in a day when corruption and riot among public men and when the interests of the whole people are regarded as of little account by faithless representatives. For twenty years Mr. Lind has been in public life in this state. For three terms he represented the old Second district in congress, and in 1882 defeated a fourth nomination which would have been equivalent to election. He retired to private life with the respect of all.

Two years ago he was called upon by the fusion forces to accept their nomination for governor. He was averse to re-entering public life, but impelled by a strong sense of duty, he finally accepted the unsought nomination and made a splendid run in a presidential year. This year he is again the unanimous choice of the fusion forces, but once more has responded to the call of duty as readily as he responded to the call of the president for volunteers for the war against Spain.

As quartermaster of the Twelfth regiment he has displayed the same ability that characterized him in other positions and the fact that the soldiers of the Twelfth are his friends and admirers speaks more eloquently than can mere words of duty well performed.

THE NEWS IN PICTURES.

The news in nowadays is not only by news illustrations, but by reproductions of actual photographs, and by illustrations which are always likely to lead the interested pictures, and particularly pictures which are always convey a better idea of such a scene or outline drawings. The New York Express is complimented upon the reproduction of a photograph or outline drawings, in which the quality of paper is used. In point of character and finish, the Saturday Evening Post is second to none in this respect, and the Sunday Times in addition to the sixteen pages of news in pictures, making a paper which compares with the Sunday Issues of the world's best newspaper.

The Phoenix is in some unknown manner and in a very good condition and has been operated for nearly three years.

It is quite a mystery. It is said that it is a good paper.

CONTRACT PUT OVER

Aldermen Want Another Provision in the Electric Light Agreement.

WESTDULUTHWATER

Ald. Jefferson Would Charge the Company $12,000 a Year—Other Matters.

The council last evening confirmed the appointment of Brewster, Palmer as chief engineer of the water plant, at a salary of $125 per month, and authorized the letting of the contract for the foundations of the dwellings at Lakewood separately from the superstructures in order to expedite matters. A committee was appointed to confer with the light and water commission and the Duluth Water and Light company in regard to the terms for furnishing water for the West Duluth mains, the chair naming Alderman Fischer, Crassweller and Johnson.

The electric light contract was reported, it being for $26 at $85 per light, and $12,000 per year. Alderman Crassweller made the observation that it contained no provision authorizing the change of location of lights. He moved such a provision be inserted, and that the new lights be placed for one year for that purpose. By consent of the committee, the chair referred the contract back to it for amendment.

Alderman Johnson offered a resolution in connection with the matter of furnishing water for the West Duluth mains, that the resolution be in effect a declaration that the company would not confirm a contract for supplying water at less than a flat rate of $12,000.

Alderman Sauer objected that this amount was too high, though that $6000 was enough. Alderman Jefferson replied that the city was paying the West Duluth company $12,000 per annum for hydrant rentals, and he said that he had heard that the light and water commission had been figuring as how to save some water.

He remarked that that was pretty low for the great city of West Duluth, which had a population of 12,000 people, as stated by an alderman.

"What alderman?" demanded Alderman Sauer.

"The alderman from the Eighth," replied Alderman Jefferson calmly, and a laugh followed. Alderman Sauer availed himself of any such assistance. Alderman Jefferson then said that the West Duluth company was charging consumers up to the limit, and making a big profit.

The city ought to get more for the services of the expensive plant in supplying the water.

Alderman Crowley inquired of the city attorney as to the juncture whether the state attorney had any objection for condemning the plant. The city attorney said that he could not state with certainty, but that he would like to have a resolution instructing the city attorney to look up the city's rights in the plant, condemn the plant and render an opinion thereon, but the chair ruled that such a motion was out of order at that time.

Alderman Johnson said that a motion to table Alderman Jefferson's motion be tabled until after the conference with the company relative to the rate for supplying water. Alderman Jefferson consented to this.

Alderman Crowley then renewed his motion, and it was adopted.

The communication, recommended, that officers for the light and water department be seated in the business center, instead of in the company's building, as one had their places of business between First and Sixth avenues west. They were to be seated much of their time possible to the business of the department, and it was stated, as they were serving without salaries, they thought that they should be an office building.

The communication stated that the room in the Torrey building, formerly occupied by the Security bank, with a strong safe and office, could be secured at $80 per month, to May 1, 1899; $85 to May 1, 1900, and an option from the last date to May 1, 1901. A referee.

ULTIMATUM NOT SENT

Gen. Bacon's Notice Delayed Until the Messengers Return.

Unless Pillagers Accept
Terms Force Will Be Again Employed.

Minneapolis, Oct. 11.—The Journal's staff correspondent at Walker, Minn., wires as follows:

The conference that was expected to take place today between the Pillager Indians and Indian Commissioner Jones, who arrived from Washington last night, will not be held. After the council yesterday, it was decided not to send the messengers with Gen. Bacon's ultimatum until the messengers, who were Father Alloysius return to the agency. They are expected today, but the high sea rolling on the lake may prevent travel. Chet Flat Mauth withdrew to his camp north of the agency after the council, and the other chiefs went to their homes.

It is said that the Indians are dis- phased with that part of Gen. Bacon's ultimatum in which he threatens to chastise them unless they come in and submit. They think it is too warlike. That will make no difference, however. The terms offered are the best that will be made, and unless the Pillagers accept them, vigorous efforts will be made to bring them to terms by force of arms.

ONLY TWENTY-FIVE LEFT.

All Soldiers at Fort Snelling Go to the front.

Minneapolis, Oct. 11.—Gen. Bacon this morning wired to Col. Sturgis, assistant adjutant general in charge of the department of Dakota, to send all the remaining available soldiers of the Third Left to Fort Snelling. There are only about twenty-five available men, and these will be sent to Walker to-morrow morning.

HELD IN READINESS.

Gen. Bacon Makes Preparations For More Troops.

Chicago, Oct. 11.—Orders have been received at division headquarters here from Gen. Bacon, in command of the department of the lakes, and Gen. Jones, to have the Fourth infantry at Fort Sheridan and the Seventeenth infantry at Columbus barracks, Ohio, held in readiness for immediate service at the scene of the Indian trouble in Minnesota.

The two regiments, according to the reports at the headquarters, are in prime condition for service with the exception of men on sick leave and a few men in post hospitals, who have not yet recovered from the rigors of the Cuban campaign. At Columbus barracks there are 886 men in garrison, and of this number between 500 and 600 can be made ready for field duty at once. At Fort Sheridan there are 536 men in garrison, and of this number almost 300 can be made ready for field duty.

PEOPLE QUIETED DOWN.

Situation at Cass Lake Has a Peace- able Aspect.

Cass Lake Reservation, Oct. 11.—From this point of view, thirty miles overland from Leech Lake looks as if the troubles with the Pillagers and their would-be allies were over. The Indians, however, are still here, and at one point north of Leech Lake who were badly frightened by Indian rumors a day or two ago, have quieted down. Hunters who have been here since the trouble started report matters generally speaking are not serious.

But this is in marked contrast with the situation of the Indians in the Red Lake region, where they were still in a state of alarm. Hunters who have been here since the trouble started report matters generally speaking are not serious.

Some people are scared away from their homes; many have run a few miles out have avoided to stay with a guard to escort them home and to major has refused, and undoubtedly very properly. Squatters and dead and down settlers are scattered about, but, evidently, for the past two days they have been streaming out by canoe into the port of the lake.

Hundreds of Indians, as soon as they came out into the woods looking up dead and down timber chances. Jim Fisher, of Leech Lake, who has been a member of the Great Northern's new road, says that the Indians are much more numerous than ever, and says the trouble is all over, that the Indians are not in sympathy with the trouble, but that they have started the whole trouble. He says none of them liked him and that now they hate him. He thinks that the Cass Lake Indians have made very bad for the Indians in general.

"Lots of Indians were killed at Bear Island," said Fisher. "I didn't see them, but I heard that they were killed. They were ugly and wouldn't let me go near. They would have shot any man in the face. I think the Indians are just as quick as we are. But there was lots of them killed."

The messenger who came to the Cass Lake Indians, who also went to Bear Island, to look up the Indians, has come back, and goes north on business. He considers the Indians to be very safe at the originators of the difficulty.

He connected with the end of the timber line and about a mile and a half west of the town of Leech Lake, and says that the Great Northern's new road, Cass Lake is on the great Indian thoroughfare from the waters of Leech Lake and adjoining the Big Fork country and the Canadian line. The Mississippi, here a mere sluggish current, is obstructed with willows, thaws, and dead timber, and the timber is cut out in the woods to be used for fuel.

RESIGNSWithdraws From the Republican State Committee and Will Leave the State.

HE WILL GO TO CUBA

Goes Both For Health and Business Reasons—No Successor Recommended.O. D. Kinney, member of the Republican state central committee for the Eleventh judicial district, has tendered his resignation. Mr. Kinney intends to leave soon for Cuba, where he will remain indefinitely, and for this reason decided to give up his position on the committee, that someone who has time to devote to it may be put in his place.
Mr. Kinney was made a member of the committee by H. E. Eustis and was chosen as the personal representative of the party's candidate for governor. It is not known why he has resigned, but it is understood that it is due to the fact that Mr. Kinney has made no recommendation.Mr. Kinney has no definite plan for the time he will be in Cuba. His object is to look about the island and be prepared to take advantage of any opportunities that may offer, for promotion. He has written to his friends with letters from prominent men, and will place him with the class of people who can be of most assistance to him. Mr. Kinney's health has not been very good recently, and it is believed that the change of climate at this time of the year will have a very beneficial effect on him.

THREADCRAFT FIRED

Mayor Truelson Gives the Colored Police Officer
the "Grand Bounce."Officer Threadcraft was dismissed from the force yesterday afternoon for "sassing" the mayor. The officer had been suspended before the mayor and Chief Hansen in connection with allegations that had been made to the effect that Threadcraft had used his club unjustifiably on J. R. Marshall, a nephew of John Marshall, of Marshall &
Son, after incurring an altercation several nights ago.The trouble arose because the officer had questioned the man's conduct of the Leech Lake and Cass Lake country where he saw a large number of Indians and talked with them. He says that he is more popular with the Indians
than with the white people, and that he is not looking for trouble with them.The Indians are the red-skinners and the whites are the blue-skinners.
They are not anxious for war or trouble. They think they will be all right if they are treated right and left alone.

Says Whites Want War.

Andrew McCormick, of this city, retired at the age of 80, is living at the Loech Lake and Cass Lake country
where he saw a large number of Indians and talked with them. He says that he is more popular with the Indians
than with the white people, and that he is not looking for trouble with them.The Indians are the red-skinners and the whites are the blue-skinners.

The Final Account.

Deputy United States Marshal Robert

Morrison came in from Detroit last evening with Mah-quad and Bah-dwaywe-ah, the two Indians captured on Bear Island the day of the fight. They are to be tried for resisting arrest. Mah-quad attacked Deputy

Morrison when he attempted to bring

Indians wanted as witnesses down

Leech Lake.

Deputy Marshal Morrison, when told this morning, that the Indians would yield, was inclined to doubt it. He does not believe that Bog-ne-ge-shig will give himself up.
